Wrapping up October

I think at the end of last month I talked about how fast September went by, but I feel like October was even faster! It was a very busy month, with Thanksgiving, a book fair and Hallowe'en.

A huge thank you to Mrs. Smallwood for all of her work in running the book fair. From the looks of it, even without being able to have a parent day, this was a huge success. The students were so excited to have the book fair, and I think that the hunger for new books was a little higher than I've seen in the past few years. We were wondering if the months of screen overload that had to happen as schools were closed have helped everyone appreciate the feel of a real book again.

We had our Hallowe'en celebration this week, a little different this year. We know there was some disappointment at the lack of a costume parade, but I am so proud of how the staff and students came together to plan fun and creative ways to celebrate the event. We had masks created, moustaches worn, pumpkins being decorated, the Monster Mash was in full effect, and there was even some carving of pumpkins. I can't say enough how impressed I am at how everyone, staff and students, finds the hidden opportunities that have made this year so successful.

This month we will be having our Remembrance Day ceremony, and Mrs. Hanson and the G8s have already put a great deal of planning into how the day will look. We will be making our presentation available to the community, as I think it is important that everyone has the opportunity to appreciate how respectfully the students are able to carry out this time-honoured and traditional day despite the restrictions. We will remember.

I hope that everyone is safe and able to enjoy this beautiful last day of October. Happy Hallowe'en! Thank you, as always, for all of your support
